

MOL Logistics Mexico Opens Irapuato Branch

-Enhancing Logistics Services for Companies Moving into Central Mexico's Bajio Region-

TOKYO - MOL Logistics (Japan) Co., Ltd., (Executive Director: Ko Hyodo) today announced the opening of the Irapuato Branch in Bajio Region on the Mexican Plateau, Central Mexico. Operations began on May 6.

MOL Logistics Mexico established its headquarters in Monterrey in March 2004, and as business expanded, opened an office in Mexico City in 2007. In recent years, the company has offered a wide variety of logistics services including transport of facilities and equipment by remote operation from the Monterrey headquarters. MOL Logistics Mexico anticipates major growth in demand for logistics services as more companies move into Mexico, particularly automakers and manufactures of automotive parts and components. The new branch in Irapuato offers excellent access to major cities in the Bajio region and will help MOL Logistics Mexico expand and improve its operations serving Central Mexico.

Currently, many of the companies moving into the Bajio Region are opening new plants. They require attentive, detailed services, ranging from customs clearance procedures to drayage and temporary storage, to meet complex logistics needs in Mexico. The Irapuato Branch's Japanese experts are fluent in both English and Spanish and are highly skilled in logistics operations. Branch services include air, ocean, and land transport and support for retrofit and assembly of production facilities and related equipment, as well as overseas household moving for transferred executives and engineers. These capabilities make the branch an ideal logistics partner for Japanese customers, offering safe, reliable, and optimal global logistics services in and out of Mexico as well as Japan.

MOL Logistics Group works constantly to develop and expand its global network, further improve service quality, and support its customers' diversified supply chains
