

Japanese firms' investment announcements in Mexico have reached more than US$ 11.4 billion since 2005

From 2005 to middle of June 2013, investments in Mexico by Japanese companies have reached more than US$ 11.4 billion. Mexico is attracting Japanese company investments mainly in sectors such as automotive and auto parts, but also electronics, metallurgic, machinery, agribusiness, food processing high technology manufacturing and logistics and transports services.

In addition, Japanese companies in the energy sector have won numerous public tender projects in Mexico. Tender projects include the building and operation of electric power plants, natural gas processing plants, and waste water treatment systems for municipal and industrial clients.

Japanese firms investments in Mexico
Year	Unit in million USD
2005	$1,152.5
2006	$771.1
2007	$443.4
2008	$562.5
2009	$190.0
2010	$1,739.4
2011	$1,752.0
2012	$3,484.3
Mid of June 2013	$1,371.0
Total	USD$11,466.2 million

Furthermore, total tally of announced investments: Direct investments in plant and machinery, plus public tenders and concessions translate to more than US$ 15.7 billion, cumulative since 2005.

2005 – June 2013
Direct Investment	$11,466.2
Public Tenders and Concessions	$4,289.3
Total	USD$15,755.5 million

*Source: Information compiled by the Office of Representation of Mexico's Ministry of Economy and the office of ProMexico in Japan
Information contained in this document may be subject to change without prior notice.*

For further information please feel free to contact us to the address below.