

Japanese firms' investment announcements in Mexico have reached more than USD $12.1 billion since 2005

From 2005 to November 2013, investments in Mexico by Japanese companies have reached more than USD $12.1 billion. Mexico is attracting Japanese company investments mainly in sectors such as automotive and auto parts, but also electronics, metallurgic, machinery, agribusiness, food processing high technology manufacturing and logistics and transports services.

In addition, Japanese companies in the energy sector have won numerous public tender projects in Mexico. Tender projects include the building and operation of electric power plants, natural gas processing plants, and waste water treatment systems for municipal and industrial clients.

Japanese firms investments in Mexico
Year	Unit in million USD
2005	$1,152.5
2006	$771.1
2007	$443.4
2008	$562.5
2009	$190.0
2010	$1,739.4
2011	$1,769.0
2012	$3,495.6
November 2013	$2,046.4
Total	USD $12,169.9 million

Furthermore, total tally of announced investments: Direct investments in plant and machinery, plus public tenders and concessions translate to more than USD $16.4 billion, cumulative since 2005.

2005 – November 2013
Direct Investment	$12,169.9
Public Tenders and Concessions	$4,289.3
Total	USD $16,459.2 million

Source: Information compiled by the Office of Representation of Mexico's Ministry of Economy.
Information contained in this document may be subject to change without prior notice.